

QUESTIONS ABOUT OUR PARTICIPATION FEE FOR CORPORATE GROUPS?

In the past, we have received some questions about the $15/person fee for corporate groups, and we'd like to share more context. This event is not only a large-scale community volunteer effort, it's also a fundraiser. All proceeds directly support The Trail Conservancy's mission to preserve, enhance and protect the Trail year-round.

Hosting almost 2,000 volunteers involves significant costs: permitting, staffing, supplies, safety gear, free t-shirts, food, and drinks for all participants. It also includes the time and effort of our full-time team members, who spend months planning, coordinating, and executing this event behind the scenes. To keep this event free and accessible for individual community members, we ask corporate groups to contribute through this modest fee.

Corporate support plays a key role in helping us scale the impact of this event. Every contribution ensures we can care for more of the Trail, welcome more community members, and build a shared sense of stewardship for our Austin's most beloved outdoor spaces.

We appreciate your understanding and support, and we hope to see your team out there making a difference, whether it's on Earth Day or at another time!

Should you have any additional questions, please reach out to development@thetrailconservancy.org.

Sincerely,
The Trail Conservancy & Rowing Dock
